1 Document Statement

1.1 The purpose of this policy is to make clear the Trust’s commitment to preventing discrimination and promoting equality and diversity. It does so not merely to satisfy legal requirements, social or contractual obligations, but in the belief that such a policy will secure the maximum contribution from employees, that it is in our employees' best interests, and that it will primarily benefit the community we exist to serve.

2 Overview

2.1 The Trust understands that we have an important role to play in the communities we serve both as an employer and a provider of healthcare services. The Trust also recognises that our performance as an employer will be closely associated in the perceptions of patients (and by the wider community we serve) with how well we manage access to and the delivery of our services, and vice versa.

2.2 The provisions and obligations of this policy apply to all Trust employees. They also apply to any other personnel working in but not employed by the Trust (including agency staff, contractors, volunteers and other workers undertaking work on Trust premises). The Trust reserves the right to remove from our premises anyone who does not comply. They also apply, where appropriate, to patients and visitors.

2.3 In implementing this Policy, Managers must ensure that all staff are treated fairly and within the provisions and spirit of this policy. Special attention should be paid to ensuring that the policy is understood when using it for staff new to the NHS or Trust, by staff whose literacy or use of English is weak, for persons with little experience of working life or where there are barriers to understanding.

3 Definitions

3.1 Equality is about ensuring all people are treated fairly and equally and that any decisions made are based on objective relevant criteria.

3.2 Diversity is about recognising and valuing the different contributions that all staff, patients and carers and families can bring to the organisation.

3.3 EDS – Equality Delivery System – a system of recording and publishing information by the Trust in regards to Equality and Diversity within the Trust including information on Gender, Age, Disability, Martial Status, Ethnicity, Religious Belief, Sexual Orientation and Pregnancy & Maternity. (see Appendix A).

3.4 EDS Forum – representative group from the NHS, Commissioning bodies, local community groups and others who meet formally to ensure that the Health Care Economy in Shropshire and Telford & Wrekin areas record and share information as required under the Equality Act 2010 – Public Sector Equality Duty.

3.5 Equality Act 2010 – known as “the Act” brought together all previous equality legislation under one Act and broadened the definitions of discrimination to encompass 9 protected characteristics.

About the Equality Act 2010 – Public Sector Duty – Equality Delivery System

The Equality Act 2010 brought together discrimination legislation. It contained new measures to strengthen protection against discrimination. It requires everyone to have equal access to employment as well as to private and public services, regardless of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage or civil partnership, maternity or pregnancy, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation.

What is the public sector Equality Duty?

The public sector Equality Duty, set out in section 149 of the Equality Act, requires public bodies to consider all individuals when carrying out their day to day work – in shaping policy, in delivering services, and in relation to their own employees. It requires public bodies to have due regard to the need to eliminate discrimination, advance equality of opportunity, and foster good relations between different people when carrying out their activities.

The Equality Duty supports good decision making – it encourages public bodies to understand how different people will be affected by their activities, so that their policies and services are appropriate and accessible to all and meet different people’s needs. By understanding how their activities affect different people, and how inclusive public services can support and open up people’s opportunities, public bodies can be more efficient and effective.

The public sector Equality Duty consists of a general duty, with three main aims, and specific duties (set out in supporting legislation).

General duty – aims to:

(i) eliminate discrimination, harassment and victimisation;
(ii) advance equality of opportunity (positive action in recruitment and promotion); and
(iii) foster good relations.

Specific duties

The Equality Act 2010 (Specific Duties) Regulations 2011 came into force on 10 September 2011.

This requires public bodies to be transparent about how they are responding to the Equality Duty – requiring them to publish relevant, proportionate information showing compliance with the Equality Duty, and to set equality objectives. The Government believes that publishing information about how decisions have been made, and how equality data was used to support those decisions, will open public bodies up to informed public scrutiny. It will give the public the information they need to challenge public bodies and hold them to account for their performance on equality.
Who does the Equality Duty apply to?

The public sector Equality Duty applies to public authorities and others carrying out public functions, including NHS organisations. The duty requires public bodies to have regard to the need to tackle discrimination and promote equal opportunities. When designing and delivering their services, they should consider how they can make the services fair for everyone. It will also ensure that decision making is based on real life experience and evidence of need, rather than assumptions and stereotypes.

About the Equality Delivery System (EDS)

The EDS is designed to help NHS organisations improve equality performance, embed equality into mainstream NHS business and is one of the key products to come out of the Equality and Diversity Council (EDC).

The EDS is designed for the NHS by the NHS and is based on:

- best practice from across industry, including the Equality Framework for local government
- the views of over 660 people (including patients and staff)
- reviews and reports on equality in the NHS, including guidance from the Equality and Human Rights Commission (EHRC)
- learning from programmes such as Pacesetters, Breaking Through and Positively Diverse

Who the EDS covers

The EDS applies to all NHS organisations, both current and planned NHS commissioning organisations, including Clinical Commissioning Groups, and to NHS providers including Foundation Trusts.

What the EDS delivers

By using the EDS it helps the NHS to meet the requirements of the Equality Act 2010 and deliver on:

- the NHS Outcomes Framework
- the right and pledges of the NHS Constitution for patients and staff
- addressing health inequalities in general, improving outcomes and reducing gaps
