

Addressing operational pressures across our maternity service – our engagement events

From 3rd July to midnight on 13th August 2018 we will be seeking your views on the necessary changes to address the current operational pressures across our maternity service.

We would like to hear from local people, and we are particularly seeking the views of women and families who have recently used, or are currently being supported by our maternity service to understand how we can best meet their needs.

In order to gather this information, we will be undertaking a number of engagement events across Shropshire.

If you would like to take part in one of these events, please contact:

Jan Millington on 01952 565996 or jan.millington@sath.nhs.uk in the first instance for more information on how to reserve your place.
