

Our commitment to equality, diversity and inclusion

As a patient, carer, volunteer or member of staff, you are legally entitled to be treated with dignity and respect regardless of your age, gender, race or ethnicity, religion or belief, sexual orientation, transgender identity, marital status whether you have a disability, are pregnant.

The Trust operates a zero-tolerance response to sexist, racist, homophobic, biphobic, transphobic and any other offensive language, behaviour or discrimination towards our staff, volunteers, patients and their carers.

We are committed to promoting a culturally sensitive, inclusive and accessible environment where every individual has an equal opportunity to access services.

The Trust will continue to invest in our diverse workforce to enable us to deliver a person-centred service, improving patient care and patient experience.

We value and respect your diversity and we uphold that unlawful discrimination, harassment and other forms of intimidation have no place with our hospitals.
